

I urge you to postpone the vote on the proposal to allow greater media consolidation, to allow more opportunity for public discussion and input of the possible implications of such an action. The media are a critical component of democracy; changes should be in the public interest, not in that of those who are already powerful.